Whimsical, in Receipt of Weight, Beats Tangle in a Smashing Race-Veronese Scores for Bill Daly-Four Favorites Meet Defeat at the Spa Track.

SARATOGA, Aug. 18 .- Andrew Miller's Incantation, backed down to 4 to 1, was victorious in the Seneca Selling Stakes, for three year-olds, six furlongs, here to-day. The Horoscope filly was ably ridden by Burns, who came from behind with her at the proper time and won the race in a drive by half a length. W. T. Anderson's Taxer, a 40 to 1 shot, who had early speed and showed in front from the start, lasted long enough to take second money from J. H. Steimer's Druid, 16 to 5 favorite, by a small margin. Czaraphine backed up in the final furlong, while Candida had no chance after the start. There was a smashing race between the crack two-year-old fillies, T. J. Gaynor's Whimsical and F. R. Hitchcock's Tangle, in the fifth event, at five and a half furlongs. Tangle, who went up in the betting to 7 to 5, onceded five pounds to Whimsical, 13 to 10 favorite. Tangle got a running start and set a stiff pace to the head of the homestretch, where Whimsical moved up, and together they ran head and head to the wire, Whimsical just getting her nose in front in time to take the race in 1:08 4-5. Six lengths back E. R. Bradley's Vi-O., a 20 to 1 shot, took third money. John Sanford's Kiamesha 11., who got the worst of a poor start, was going stead-ly at the and.

money. John Sainfords mainfords 11. Management of a poor start, was going steadly at the end.

The opening event, a handicap for all ages, seven furlongs, was an open betting affair, with Joseph E. Widener's Sir Lynnewood, closing an equal favorite with D'Arkle, at 4 to 1, and good support for Frank Fairel's two-year-old coit Clark Griffith, H. T. Oxnard's Marjoram, John A. Drake's Wyeth and J. L. Thompson's Pat Bulger. Marjoram and Sir Lynnewood went out in front at the start for a killing race. Marjoram was beaten at the half mile pole, and Sir Lynnewood simply breezed on to the wire, where he won by four lengths in 1:271-5. Pat Bulger, who was third most of the way, got up in time to nip the place from Marjoram by a head. Clark Griffith, who was half a dozen lengths out of the money, never had a look-in. Our Bessie, the favorite in the second race, for platers, at nine furlongs, had no speed in the early stages of the struggle, and was heaten off. John E. Madden's By Ways, 6 to 1, made the running to the last furlong pole, where J. L. Hayman's Yorkshire Lad, a neglected 15 to 1 shot, took command and won easily by two lengths in 1:56. McDaniel, put By Ways under a heavy drive and finished in the place a head before Leila, 2 to 1 second choice, the latter beating Jack Young half a length.

Father Bill Daly won his first race in several choice, the latter beating Jack Young half a length.

Father Bill Daly won his first race in several months when Veronese, backed down to 5 to 1, captured the handicap for two-year-olds, five and a half furlongs. He showed his heels to the others as soon as the field was sent away and won ridden out by two lengths in 1:08. Lady Navarre, 18 to 5 second choice, outgamed Sly Ben, the favorite, and beat him a head for the place. Comedienne blew up in the stretch.

J. Grant Lyman's Grand Duchess, who receded to 6 to 1, led at all stages of the last race, for maidens, at a mile, and won ridden out by two lengths. Conquest, a good thing, ran into the place a length in front of Bella Signors, the favorite, who began rather slowly but was coming fast at the wind-up. Indian Star, a 100 to 1 shot, was a length and a half back. The mile was run in 1:43 2-5. Four favorites lost and Miller rode two winners. The summaries:

Williams came near losing a game to Dr. Veasey, who at length wired his own ball in the cage, allowing Williams to get the balls and the game. Williams has yet to meet Besworth and Wahly. Owing to mud, rain and wet courts early in the week the tournament has been delayed and the championship will not be decided until to-morrow.

CHANCE FOR WHITNEY'S FILLY TO SHOW HOW GOOD SHE IS.

Horsemen Too Busy Shipping Stables to Indulge in Bids on Selling Ruces Our Besste Burns Up Much Western Money Shaw Set Down by the Starter.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 18,-Artful's name as a starter in the Saratoga cup tq-morrow came as a pleasant surprise to-day when the entries were handed around at the track. For some time back her trainer led every one to believe that she would not be sent to bid or the rich prize, and there is no question but that when he gave out the information he was sincere. The filly's work since has been so gilt edged, however, that he would be foolish to miss the chance not alone to show that she is a stayer of the first order, but to materially add to the stable's earnings. Her opponents are good enough to suit all purposes; in fact, the horsemen are pleased that there is an absence of the forlors hopes that would only be in the way. It means a chance for Mr. Whitney's great fiffy to show just how good she is. To-night few can be found that question her winning, the disputed point being who will be the one to follow her home. A number are about offering to bet that the track and world's record for the distance will be broken, and there is good reason to believe that it will be, for this filly is certainly capable of taking some time off the old mark if one of the others can be found to hurry her at any stage of the trip.

It may be that her trainer, J. W. Rogers, will give her rider instructions to let her run along. If he does it is a certainty that she will hang up some figures that will go on the list of records. Her being sent for this race, which is a trip of a mile and six furlongs, bears out the assertions made for some days back that she is being pointed for the Annual Champion Stakes at Sheepshead Bay, where in a journey of two miles and a quarter she it apt to meet Sysonby. It is said that her trainer and owner are auxious to see her meet the Keene crack, and if the latter will keep his engagement in the race mentioned it will be the event of the year and a champion stake in fact as well as name.

Strange as it may seem, the day passed without a bid in the two selling races that were run or a claim for any of the beaten delegation. This is the first afternoon since the meeting opened that this has happened, and it can be accounted for in two ways. and it can be accounted for in two ways. the material at call was not attractive and all hands are so busy getting ready for a shift of scene that they really had not the time to bother their competitors.

This matter of getting away the stables that have been racing or resting here is really pany said to-day that his order list showed a total of 112 carloads that must be shipped out of here before next Friday. When one considers the number of trains and the horse cars that are at call it is easy to appreciate the hustling there must be.

The move is already under way, and there

the hustling there must be.

The move is already under way, and there will not be a letup until all hands are shipped. The string of John A. Drake left to-night and to-morrow the shipments will include the horses of Carroll Reid, Turner Bross. Frank Van Meter, William Keating and J. W. May. Joe Yeager's horses also go to-morrow morning, but they are to be shipped to Latonia, Yeager finds that he has not the right sort of material for the fall campaign in the East and will make a try with them where the game is easier.

The searcity of stalls at all the metropolitan tracks has been worrying the horsemen considerably. For two weeks back all applications sent to Gravesend, Sheepshead Bay and Brighton have been returned indorsed "All full." Search in the vicinity of the tracks mentioned showed that all outside quarters were also rented, and in plain words there was no place to shelter many of those that were to be shipped down. As some of these horses without quarters had stake engagements the situation was a serious one, but happily relief has been found. To-day Mr. Belmont, acting for the Westchester Racing Association, announced that the horsemen would be permitted to stable at Belmont Park, where they will find the very best of quarters. He also announced that he would arrange a train service that would permit all that are to be raced to be carried back and forth each day on a special train over the Long Island Railroad. This service will be put on Futurity day and continued for the remainder of the time that there is racing at the big tracks. This is good news for owners and trainers, for many feared that they would be compelled to ship either to Latonia or Fort Erle.

The defeat of Our Bessie in the second race cost the Westerners a lot of money. This applies to those racing here as well as to those that are still in the West. This filly had been made ready and the word went forth that it was simply a case of how much she would win

FINE TENNIS BY STEVENS.

Baseline Player Defeats Hobart and Reaches Final of Meadow Tourney. SOUTHAMPTON, Aug. 18 .-- With all of the lawn tennis events in full swing to-day, the experts came through to the final rounds of the singles and doubles, Richard Stevens, the noted base line player, gaining his bracket in the final of the singles. Stevens's defeat of the veteran international player, Clarence Hobart, was one of the features of the Meadow Club's tournament. He won over Hobard in the semi-final and then by the same score, 6-1, 6-3, defeated the Kings county champion, Frederick G. Anderson, for the place in the final round. Stevens has come through this tournament to the final several times, but he has always been beaten. As he will meet the winner of the Dewhurst-Behr match in the morning, it is believed by the experts that at last Stevens is to triumph here.

The doubles yielded good sport this afternoon, as the committee hurried the matches through, and only one match remained un-played in the third round when the com-petitors retired for the day. Three pairs dvanced to the semi-finals, the brackets being taken by Heary Torrance and Theodore Roosevelt Pell, Harry F. Allen and Frederick G. Anderson and William A. Larned and Henry Stevens's defeat of Hobart and Anderson in rapid order furnished a remarkable exhi-bition of the splendid defensive and attacking qualities of the base line game. Stevens hit the ball with wonderful force and kept it going over the net so low that both Hobart and Anderson were compelled to make their returns on ground strokes, on which both showed weakness to an amazing extent.

This forced the New Yorks to let out a wrap and go ten innings to win. Roser Bresnahan was the boy who batted in the deciding run in the tenth inning, he sending n Bowerman, who also made a helpful hit in the tenth. Two bases on balls had a persuasive influence on the result. In getting into hot water by giving bases on balls, Jake Weimer, who pitched the last two innings, was only following the example of Briggs, whose bases on balls had him in difficulties several times.

McGinnity pitched well, and clean support ! the ninth would have disposed of the Chicagos without the game being tied. McGinnity himself made one of the deadlocking misplays in the ninth, and Gilbert made the other. Every error of the game was expensive, though there was much sharp fielding. The New Yorks collided with three double plays. the same postponing their victory. A telling factor in the home team's scoring was smart base running, chances being taken with good udgment in connection with a Chicago tenledey to play flightily at such times and do he wrong thing. In head work and aggressiveness the New Yorks laid considerably over Chance's charges.

Fast work on grounders by Casey and linker made short work of the New Yorks in

New Yorks Shut Out in Chicago Sixteen Inn'ng Game in St. Louis. The Washingtons were the only Eastern American League team to win in the West yesterday. They blanked the Clevelands, and while this was going on the New Yorks were being blanked in a six inning game in Chicago. The Philadelphias and Browns played a tie game of sixteen innings, and the Bostons were worsted by the Detroits. The

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

CHICAGO (A. L.), 6; NEW YORK (A. L.), 0. CHICAGO, Aug. 18 .- The White Sox had the New Yorks on the run' to-day at the end of the sixth inning, when a torrent of water came down, flooded the field and ended the discussion. Hits were even, but Griffith's men ran themselves to death on their own long drives, while the Sox combined their safeties with errors and bases on balls. New York hit White hard, though without scoring, and Smith pitched out the game. Orth retired after a cluster of runs had been made in the fifth, and Newton was sending them over when the cloudburst came.

New York got nothing, chances for scores being lost when Couroy and Chase tried to make triples out of doubles and were exterminated. The Sox began work early. In the first inning Jones drew a pass, two men went out to help him along and Yeager fumbled Callahan's grounder, Jones rushing in. Jones was again passed in the third, and the same process was repeated, excepting that this time Callahan's hit was clean and hard.

The crash came in the fifth. A bad throw New Yorks on the run' to-day at the end of hard.

The crash came in the fifth. A bad throw by Elberfeld and a fumble by Williams put two men on bases. Isbell singled, Davis forced Jones, Callahan walked and Donahue singled. Three runs. Newton pitched the sixth. Dundon reached first on a forceout and Smith's fly fell safe in the blinding rain, Dundon coming all the way home. The score:

Paseball Notes.

Yesterday's victory gave the New Yorks a management of the Season's series with the Chicago Cubs. A distinguishing characteristic of the Chicago Nationals in their games here is the silmness of their scoring.

Turner celebrated the making of his hundred that by making it a homer. The celebration was place at Waddell's expense.
